How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED,

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

Frozen Gas for Fuel.

According to a special from Muncie, Ind., which is the center of the Indiana natural gas fields, the number of chance discoveries has just been added to by one which will be of immense importance in the industrial world. The story is that a few days ago a service pipe line of natural gas had frozen near Mill Grove. To remedy the stoppage a joint of the pipe was detached. It was found that the joint was filled with ice, and one of the workmen pounded the pipe and a cylinder of ice about a foot long came out. One of the workmen said jestingly, "Well, there's some ice which ought to burn."

Some one then suggested that fire be applied to the ice. The ice caught fire and burned like a torch, so thoroughly was it impregnated with the natural gas. The burning gas furnished heat to melt the ice, and as it melted it liberated the gas, which burned as fiercely as if it had been coming out of a pipe.

All present were amazed at the phenomenon, and it was at once suggested that the discovery might prove of immense value by rendering it possible to freeze natural gas into blocks which could be sent out for use as fuel. It seems that the congealing had taken place under a pressure of 300 pounds to the square inch, and it will require investigation of chemical experts to decide whether the gas had been liquefied by the pressure and then frozen or not. Capitalists are investigating the discovery, and if practical a new industry will be developed in the natural gas fields.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

A Novelty in Spectacles.

A gentleman well known in the scientific world has just invented a pair of shot proof spectacles. It is not exactly a compliment to the modern sportsman, but I am bound to say that in view of the alarming increase of shooting accidents in recent years, the invention must be considered as supplying a serious want. I have it from a friend who has been going into the question that these glasses (which are being manufactured on the Strand) may be relied upon to withstand almost anything short of a charge fired point blank, and they have the advantage of thoroughly protecting the side of the eye—which is the direction in which the most serious wounds are generally received.—London Truth.

Remarkable Wheelbarrow Trip.

Four adventurous persons, three men and one woman, will leave Seattle soon for New York with no other means of conveyance than a wheelbarrow. They are J. F. Cheatham, John Howard, E. W. Caston and Miss Lou Howard. The men will take turn about at pushing the wheelbarrow, and only when the woman gives out from exhaustion will she be allowed to ride. Only in case of sickness will stops of a longer duration than twelve hours be made at any place until Chicago is reached, where it is intended to remain for three days, and then push on for New York. It is the intention of the quartet to cover the distance between Seattle and New York in five months.—San Francisco Call.

A Stitch in Time Saves Nine

Is true of old coats and mouths. When the former shows the first defect take a "stitch," and always keep the mouth right by using SOZODONT. It costs less for a new coat than a set of teeth. False teeth are not as pleasant as natural ones.

Usefulness of Screens.

If you look at the reverse side of many of the pretty screens whose only object seems to be or to be fair, you will find them fitted up with all sorts of useful devices. Some of them have sets of shelves for biscuit jar, cups, saucers and teapot; some, bands of ribbon stretched tightly across that hold photographs, unanswered letters or engagement list. If in the library, they are sometimes set with gilt hooks as well as shelves, and hold the pipe, tobacco pouch, matches, etc. In sewing rooms, cushions for pins and needles, scissors, and a bag for scraps and dust cloth are attached; in bedrooms, the shelves hold pastes or perfumes, maybe books of devotion, while one boudoir screen with Watteau figures on its face is almost as attractive on the other side, as it is hung with luncheon souvenirs and cotillon favors.—New York Post.

A Mountain of Onyx.

It is reported that a mountain of onyx has been discovered in Mexico about thirty miles from El Paso. It is said to be of a superior quality, fine graded and beautifully marked with calico streaks of variegated colors blended across the face of the edge. The mineral, it is claimed, scales off in large slates, making it possible to sell it as cheap as common stone.—Exchange.

A Baked Clay Food Factory.

James Wardner has found a bread mine in the Okanogan country. The stuff is a clay, which, when baked, is edible. It will be canned and sent east, along with boned turkey from the cat ranch.—Washington Press-Times.

Queer world! Queer people! Here are men and women by thousands suffering from all sorts of diseases, bearing all manners of pain, spending their all on physicians and "getting no better but rather worse," when right at hand there's a remedy which says it can help them because it's helped thousands like them. "Another patent medicine advertisment," you say. Yes—but not one of the ordinary sort. The medicine is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and it's different from the ordinary nostrums in this:—

It does what it claims to do or it costs you nothing!

The way is this: You pay your druggist $1 00 for a bottle. You read the directions, and you follow them. You get better or you don't. If you do you buy another bottle and perhaps another. If you don't get better, you get your money back. And the queer thing is that so many people are willing to be sick when the remedy's so near at hand.

I CURE FITS!

When I say cure I do not mean merely to stop them for a time and then have them return again. I mean a radical cure. I have made the disease of FITS, EPILEPSY or FALLING SICKNESS a life-long study. I warrant my remedy to cure the worst cases. Because others have failed is no reason for not now receiving a cure. Send at once for a treatise and a Free Bottle of my infallible remedy. SELFISH ADVISERS

The two or three goldbug organs published in Nevada are like ships at sea without rudder or compass. They know the free coinage of silver would help Nevada at the present time more than anything that could occur, not excepting the actual commencement of work on another transcontinental railroad, yet they have not the manliness to join the people in demanding it at the hands of the politicians. They are aware that for years the people of Nevada have been grossly and outrageously deceived by place hunters on this silver question. They have heard men declare from the stump that the success of the party they represented meant the reopening of the United States mints for the coinage of silver as well as gold. Democrats assured the people that the election of Cleveland meant the remonetization of silver, and the Republicans vowed that with Harrison in the White House free coinage would be established at onc

Cleveland was elected and proved to be under the control of Wall Street as much as Sherman or Hayes Harrison succeeded Cleveland and the whole influence of his Administration has been used to prevent the passage of a free coinage bill Both the Republican Senate and Democratic House refuse to right the wrong of 1872, by passing a free coinage bill.

The people of the whole country see that no relief from the financial stringency which prevails is to be expected unless the free coinage of silver is made a political issue, as Wall Street influences are equally effective in both the present parties. They have, therefore, concluded to be no longer duped by professional politicians, and are organizing for effective service in the next campaign. Men who have been prominent in Republican and Democratic circles, are enrolling in silver clubs and pledging themselves to support no man for office, especially the high office of President of the United States, who is not unqualifiedly in favor of the free coinage of silver.

This sensible as well as patriotic movement on the part of the people, is denounced by two or three newspapers and a few place-hunting, time-serving politicians in Nevada, who, for selfish purposes, appeal to men's prejudices in vain endeavor to prevent them from pledging themselves to do what every reasonable person knows cannot, under any circumstances, result in injury to the principal industry of the State.

HARRISON'S PEEPING TOM.

So Mr Harrison's R[illegible] organ is dogging men, who have taken an active part in politics, when they arrive in Reno, proving that there is nothing too cowardly or contemptible for a Nevada gold bug to do. C C Wallace, Assessor of Eureka county, who for many years has been prominent in Republican councils in this State visited the JOURNAL while in Reno Thursday Because Mr. Wallace, in common with the whole people of Eureka county, has taken a pledge to support no man for President who is not for free coinage his visit to the JOURNAL office, where he and every respectable citizen of the State, whatever his politics may be, is welcome, is made the subject of a scurrilous article in the organ for the purpose of making the people of Nevada think it is against their interest to act unitedly in the silver cause. The editor of the JOURNAL has been on the wrong side of politics to be in the confidence of Mr. Wallace, or other hitherto Republican leaders and advisers, but he has heard, and he believes it to be true, that C C Wallace never made a promise to political friend or foe in Nevada that he did not redeem, and the fact that he joins with the people against a party which for many years has honored him with office and confidence proves that he is much more manly than his traducers.

"IT MIGHT HURT THE PARTY"

The gallant Silver State, whose editor was elected to the Legislature on the Republican ticket, is doing yeoman service in the free coinage cause The anathemas and execrations of the party hacks who say both parties in Nevada favor silver when they know that the gold bugs in Washington care nothing for that, so long as the parties in Nevada support the nominees of gold bugs for President, have no terrors for the Silver State. It has no fears of the party lash and tells the truth regardless of consequences to Harrison, Cleveland or any other goldite It says among many other truths that "Every opponent of the Silver Leagues claims to be sound on free coinage, but each one has a strong string tied to his free coinage opinion The strongest one is 'it might hurt the party' The party takes pretty good care of itself, or rather the men who run it, and the poor free coinage men will have to take care of themselves or get left "

RAILROAD STATISTICS

Senator Call has offered a resolution in the United States Senate, which, if adopted and its provisions carried out, will get together some very valuable information It provides for the appointment of a committee to inquire into the present value per mile of the railways of the United States, their present capitalization and the difference between such capitalization and their actual cost, their gross and net receipts, number and compensation of employes, amount of bonded indebtedness and capital and stock and a list of stockholders and bondholders, giving their residences.

Washington correspondents say the report that Mr Blaine was very brusque in his refusal of the invitation to accompany the Administration party to New York to take part in the laying of the corner stone of the Grant monument, has caused considerable comment at the Capital Mr Blaine is at least consistent. There never was any love displayed by him for General Grant during his life time, and he declines to make a pretense of it over his grave.

The Hetherington Robinson Affair

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29 —The steamer Belgic, which arrived to day from Yokohama, brought further details of the trial and acquittal of Lieutenant Hetherington on a charge of murdering Gower Robinson

The taking of the testimony for the defense occupied a week, and some thirty witnesses were examined. Hetherington, himself was placed on the stand and related the circumstances leading up to the shooting He told how, when he joined his wife at Yokohama, she treated him coldly and he soon discovered that Robinson was the cause of this. Finally he remonstrated with Mrs Hetherington and wrote to Robinson, telling him he must cease his attentions to his wife. Robinson replied, acknowledging that he was in love with Mrs Hetherington, but said nothing wrong had occurred and promised that he would cease his attentions to her. Soon after this Hetherington was obliged to go out on the Marion for gun practice, but before leaving hired detectives to watch his wife On his return the detectives reported that Mrs Hetherington tried to avoid Robinson, who still pursued her Late in December Hetherington found an ardent love letter from Robinson to his wife, and he only refrained from sending his wife home on account of their child. He afterwards found out that Robinson had planned an elopement and had sent Mrs Hetherington money with which she could follow him to some other country On New Year's day Robinson leered at his wife from the street, which so angered Hetherington that he started out to horsewhip Robinson but was prevented by friends.

Hetherington continued, and said that from the 1st to the 23d of January he got on well with his wife In the latter part of January Robinson went to Kabe and during his absence Mrs Hetherington made a confession to her husband of her relations with Robinson Hetherington, in describing it said it was a long and painful story When he understood all, he freely forgave her and felt a great pity for her. He said his wife's feelings against Robinson were intensified, and, while his wife had done things which were inexplicable to him, he looked upon her as an outraged woman.

Robinson returned from Kibe about February 10th Hetherington described the state of feeling which Robinson's return produced on him and said that on February 13th, the day the shooting occurred, his ideas were confused. The in [illegible] he saw Robinson driving on the bund he was maddened. He fired the shots more to stop the carriage than with any idea of hitting Robinson.

Consult Tillotson, in rendering his decision, gave an exhaustive review of the testimony and called attention especially to the confession which Mrs Hetherington made to her husband shortly before the shooting, in which she described her wild midnight ride to Robinson's house last October, and told of the threats which Robinson had held over her. In finding Hetherington not guilty, the Consular Court declared that the confession, together with the other long train of distressing circumstances of the case, had produced a great state of mental disturbance in the defendant, and he was not responsible for his actions at the moment the fatal shot was fired

The earthquake was also felt at Grass Valley and Marysville.

A Well Merited Thrashing

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., April 29.—Last night a body of men broke into the county jail and took therefrom a Chinaman who was under arrest for indecent exposure in the presence of little school girls. The men took the Chinaman to the city limits and stripping him gave him an unmerciful whipping with a blacksnake. They then told him to leave town and never return under forfeit of his life No attempt has been made to arrest the law breakers.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar" Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more of Hood's Sarsaparilla sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

How often have you heard interested Merchants tell you that they had a tobacco "as good as Seal;" "and better than Seal;" a little extra profit often induces them to "Harp on the same old string." The success of "Seal of North Carolina" was made by the smokers themselves. No brand of tobacco ever could come into such general use if the smokers did not like it, and as a rule the man with the pipe generally knows what he wants.

Spring's Bedfellow.

Spring went about the woods today,
The soft foot Winter thief,
And found where the Sorrow lay
Between the flower and leaf.

She looked on him and found him fair
For all she had been told;
She knelt down beside him there
And sang of days of old.

His open eyes behold her naught,
Yet 'gan his lips do move;
But life and deeds were in her thought
And he would sing of love.

So sang they till their eyes did meet,
And faded fear and shame;
More bold he grew and she more sweet
Until they sang the same—

Until, say they who knew the thing,
Their very lips did kiss,
And Sorrow, laid abed with Spring,
Begat an earthly bliss.
—William Morris.

Philadelphia to New York in 10 Minutes.

All sorts of attempts to produce flying machines that would fly have been made, but it has remained for an ingenious Philadelphian to apply the trolley system of electricity to the problem. H. Gawthrop, a well known business man, gives this preliminary description of the apparatus:

This flying machine is to be driven by an electric motor, the power being conveyed by the now well known trolley system to drive a large fan. The body of the machine is a large flat surface, shaped like the deck of a vessel, the stem part hinged and controlled to steer the machine up or down. There is also a rudder to change the direction to right or left, and a hanging weight to keep from tilting.

Like a bicycle, it will require much skill and alertness on the part of the operator, and will be attended with some dangers to beginners. It should be kept about 100 feet from the ground to give leeway, and the trolley firmly secured to the wire and the wire to the poles.

Mr. Gawthrop is under the impression that this system, if properly perfected, would enable the distance from Philadelphia to New York to be covered in ten minutes.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Tremendous Water Power.

A paper company at Niagara Falls finds it no easy task to decide how the the terrific power from the 130 feet head of water which is to be at their disposal shall be utilized. At a recent conference of the officers of the company about twenty wheels and methods of developing power were submitted to them, and all but three were immediately passed over as being wholly inadequate to the occasion. Most of the water wheels made would crush like eggshells beneath the force of a column of water falling 130 feet down a penstock.

The wheels selected for further tests are to receive it at Holyoke, and when a decision is reached the company's architect will prepare plans for several ways of using the power. The contract for building a coffer dam for the company has been let, and also for the tunnel and shaft. The tunnel will be 500 feet long and probably 10 by 12 feet in size. The shaft will have a depth of 140 feet, and will be 14 by 40 or 45 feet in size.—Springfield Paper World.

Protection by Smoke from Frost.

Experiments in the making of artificial clouds for the preservation of plants from the effects of frost took place yesterday in the Jardin d'Acclimatation, under the auspices of the Agricultural society. Masses of resinous matter in boxes of pinewood were set alight, and soon gave off dense volumes of smoke. This was expected to produce the required nebulosity, but it failed to rise to the level of the situation, and was blown away in the direction of the seal pond. Experiments of a similar kind have been tried with more success in the Gironde vineyards. The proceedings in the Jardin d'Acclimatation were watched by several staff officers, who wished to see if the new invention could be utilized for military purposes, such as the masking of exposed troops or batteries in time of war. —Paris Cor. London Telegraph.

A Battered Old War Eagle.

Thursday T. W. Landers shot and wounded a gray eagle near the Dresback bridge on Big Pine, and after considerable trouble he succeeded in capturing and carrying it to R. Dresback's store. A strip of sheet brass was discovered coiled around the bird's neck and made fast by a brass wire. The strip of brass measured 2½ inches in width by 13 in length, with letters stamped on which said: "Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 15, 1861. Samuel C. Boils, Co. G, 57th O. V. I." The bird is a savage looking monster. One wing measured over three feet. A portion of the other being shot away they could not get the exact dimensions. He is now confined in a cage.—Ohio Democrat.

Foolhardy Feat of Waltzing.

Great excitement was caused in Sackville street, Dublin, recently, by a foolhardy feat performed at the top of Nelson's pillar by a watch manufacturer from Cork. The man and a friend mounted to the top of the pillar, and then the former climbed over the railings at the summit and commenced waltzing round the parapet. A false step and he would have been dashed to pieces. A large crowd assembled, and two constables ascended the pillar and arrested the men. They were taken before the magistrates, who discharged them on their asserting that their conduct was nothing but a freak.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Her Sacrifice.

Seated at the dinner table were the father, mother and their two young hopefuls, the youngest a five-year-old and very averse to going to school. The mother said to the eldest: "Ethel, Lent is here. What are you going to give up?" She could not make up her mind, but Enid, quick as a flash, said, "Mamma, I know what I will give up; I will give up school."—New York Tribune.

RED BLUFF, Sept. 25, 1891.
METROPOLITAN Dispensary—Gentlemen:
Six weeks ago, when I first wrote you, I did not think it possible that such a wonderful change could be wrought in such a case as mine. I was a victim of Nervous Debility and Insomnia, caused by my own indiscretion, I was unable to sleep sometimes for three and four days on a stretch, and then only for an hour or so. I had been doctoring for months, and the best physicians on the coast pronounced my case hopeless. I was dying, dying slowly but surely, yet able to be up and around. Your first treatment was a revelation, to me, and in a short time was fast asleep, and after 24 hours I felt certain that you would cure me. I have gained more than 20 lbs. in six weeks. I can only say "God bless you."
W. W. WILSON

Miss Nellie Wilson of Watsonville, Cal. wrote us as follows:

DEAR SIRS:—Enclosed please find P. O. order for the balance due you. It is unnecessary to send another treatment, as I am entirely cured.

MISS NELLIE WILSON.

Mother says that I'm well, and I quite agree with her. My hearing is completely restored, the roaring noises in my right ear are also gone.

I have gained 15 pounds of weight in the two months of your treatment. My sense of smell has also returned, although it was about gone, as you will remember.
MISS NELLIE WILSON.

Such evidence as this, coming from responsible parties, cannot be ignored by the afflicted. We would be glad to have you write to these parties and see for yourselves. We have thousands of similar testimonials on file in our office.

What is Electricity?

If the question is now asked, "What is electricity?" we may reply advantageously, in the words of Jo'ai: A thing of which we know a little more than nothing and a little less than something. A little more than nothing, for we know that it is of the nature of light and heat, extending itself like them in waves of motion. A little less than something for of the essence of electricity itself whether static or dynamic, we are still absolutely in the dark. There has been no want of other theories, but the fundamental tendency of the age is to reduce all phenomena and forces to the fewest possible primaries, and it is not improbable that this will be facilitated by the wave theory of the so called ether.

The problem of gravitation, too, which was so long regarded as a force acting from a distance, is now equally attributed to the agency of a medium. In his efforts to demonstrate the oneness of all natural forces, the physicist is not likely to be led astray, even although the cognition of force presents one of those world problems, the solution of which must forever escape us; aye, although, as the final result of the most exact investigation, it should forever be denied to him even to assert decisively, "It is only a force, and the ether is its medium of transmission."—Exchange.

Poor Mr. Hicks.

"We are going to have a late spring this year," said Mr. Hicks, anxious to stave off the spring clothes question.

"Then I shall have to have another winter bonnet," said Mrs. Hicks. And then Mr. Hicks wished he had staid in he frying pan.—Harper's Bazar.
